

Brady Raggio

2011 SRVHS ATHLETIC HALL OF FAME

Brady Raggio, Class of 1990:

San Ramon has had a great tradition of successful Baseball teams and players for well more than a half a ce players ever to have his jersey number retired and have his name and number inscribed on the outfield wall c baseball player, Brady culminated his career by being chosen as both an All-League and All-Northern Califor Northern California in a game against the best players in Southern California.

In 1992, at Chabot Junior College, Brady was the California JC Pitcher of the Year. He was also a JC All-Ame Chabot for winning percentage (13 – 0) and lowest ERA (1.04). That year, he was drafted and signed by the 9 debut in 1997 with a win over the Florida Marlins which generated a lot of press back here at home. Brady sp with the Cardinals. He also spent some time with the Cardinals top affiliate AAA team in Memphis, TN where

Brady played professionally in Japan for three seasons before returning to our Major League as a member of

In 2004, Brady played for Arizona's AAA affiliate, the Reno Aces. This was not the end of his career, but actu currently works for the Reno Aces, handling all of the corporate partnerships.

Brady and his wife, Denise, have two children, Brock and Lauren.