

Kelly Crow-Fuca

2017 SRVHS ATHLETIC HALL OF FAME

Kelly Crow-Fuca – Class of 2004 – Volleyball

Kelly grew up in the East Bay and started playing club volleyball at age 11. At ages 14 and 15, Kelly was one USA High Performance Team and train at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs. In her freshman year, she played for Monte Vista as a starting outside hitter, and for City Beach 16-1s, who ended up winning Nationals in 2001. She then transferred to San Ramon Valley High School her sophomore year and played as a starter on Varsity for

During her three years at SRV, the Wolves finished in the top 3 in the North Coast Section (2001 – 3rd, 2002-2003 – champions those three years! Kelly was a leader on her volleyball teams at SRV. All her teammates looked up to her for volleyball skills and strategies and knew how to get her team to compete.

Kelly was selected 1st all EBAL team all four years and was league MVP in 2002. As a senior, Kelly was named in the San Francisco Times and Tri-Valley Herald, "Player of the Year", Sports Focus "Fall Athlete of the Year", and she was also selected to the All-Country team.

After high school, she went on to play Division 1 volleyball at San Jose State University where she earned All-American Conference her senior year in 2008.

After college, Kelly played professionally in Vordingborg, Denmark and was able to compete with talented players from all over the world.

Throughout and post college, Kelly coached club volleyball in the 14s, 15s, 16s and 18s divisions, and was also a coach at volleyball camps for San Jose State, UC Berkeley, and St Mary's College.

Kelly continues to stay involved with the game, working with today's youth whenever she can. She has been involved in the game ever!

In her professional life, she works as a realtor with the Reiser Group located in Alamo. Her and her husband, Scott, are expecting their first baby in March 2018.